

Please find the attached figures that may assist you in locating the pilot test facilities and the water intake system. The partner agencies are open to recommendations on the location of the water intake system, whether it should be installed at the mouth of Mallard Slough or in an area closer to the pumping plant. The mouth of Mallard Slough may be more representative of the fullscale facility and its potential impacts, while a site nearer the pumping plant may provide more certainty regarding permitting process, schedule, and budget. Please justify your recommendation of the water intake system location in your proposal and clearly state your assumptions.
